FYI

- In Social Studies, we have been focusing on the Northeast Region. The students will be quizzed over the NE region states, capitals, and postal abbreviations. They will also have a quiz over the content we have covered in class pertaining to the region. The quiz for both parts is tentatively planned for next Thursday, but may need to be moved to Friday. Hopefully, your child has begun to study a little every night!
- Fourth grade has started long multiplication. We will be doing lots of review, so don't worry if your child hasn't grasped the concept yet. Keep practicing those multiplication and division facts because knowing the facts helps with the process. Remember practice makes permanent!
- The students have started a new reading contract and are working on the historical fiction genre.
